

How the Computer Works for You

Instructions: In the following scenarios, please describe how the computer is working to accomplish the task that is being described. Make sure your answers reference vocabulary and describe the activities that are necessary.

1.) Turning on the computer to get to the desktop.

2.) You want to open up Pages to write a paper and then when you are done save it, and then also save it to a flash drive so there is a back up.

3.) Your class partner shared a dvd with you that had your commercial from class on it. You needed to then edit the footage, create a final copy of the film, save it, and then project it for the class.
